

LEGAL EXPENSE COVERAGE FOR INSURANCE AUDITS

As a professional, you strive to deliver the highest quality of care to your clients. However, in today's environment, even the most diligent professionals can face insurance investigations, inquiries or audits.

We've Got You Covered

This protection is specifically designed to address the financial costs associated with undergoing an insurance investigation, inquiry, or audit related to your professional services.

Why This Coverage Matters

Standard Professional Liability Insurance (PLI) policies typically do not include coverage for the costs associated with insurance audits or investigations. Without this crucial protection, professionals facing an investigation, audit, or inquiry from an insurance company or benefit provider are left to pay out of pocket for legal fees, expert consultations, and other related expenses.

Consider an example where this policy may respond:

A professional named Steph receives a notice from an insurance company commencing an audit of her billing practices. The insurance company had flagged several claims for services provided to clients and wanted to ensure that the billing was accurate and in compliance with industry standards.

Concerned about the potential legal costs and the implications for her business, Steph reaches out for assistance. With this insurance, the legal costs associated with the audit are covered, and Steph is assigned a specialized lawyer who guides her through the audit process, helping her prepare the required documentation, and representing her interests during discussions with the insurance company.

The audit is completed without any issues, and Steph continues her practice with peace of mind, knowing she was able to defend her legal rights, and expenses were taken care of.
